

Mabel M. Miguel, PhD (Mabel)

PROFESSOR OF ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR AND STRATEGY

Mabel Miguel is professor of leadership and management at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill's Kenan-Flagler Business School. She teaches core leadership and management skills to MBA, Executive MBA, and global OneMBA® students. She has developed and taught leadership skills courses for such organizations as the U.S. Air Force, ExxonMobil, Siemens, Sony Ericsson, Caterpillar, Eastman Chemical, Grant Thornton, Dentsply, Glen Raven Mills, Wachovia, Performance Foods, CEMEX, SpectraSite, Fleet Chemicals, AmeriChoice, Navy Supply Corps and Environmental Protection Agency. Professor Miguel has also taught extensively at universities and organizations overseas including Garanti Bankası and BriSA in Istanbul, Turkey.

A citizen of the world, Dr. Miguel is uniquely qualified to lead UNC Kenan-Flagler students on Global Immersion Electives to South America and East Asia. Born in Argentina, she has lived in Venezuela, Barbados, France and Turkey, where she was a visiting professor at Koc University in Istanbul. She speaks Spanish and English fluently and conversational French.

Previously she was an associate at the Management Simulation Projects Institute at New York University's Leonard N. Stern School of Business, and a senior designer and trainer for Business Simulations, Inc., a New York consulting firm. At NYU, she trained and co-designed a number of behavioral and computer simulations. Clients included Koç University, Stern's Executive MBA Program, ESADE (Escuela Superior de Administración y Dirección de Empresas) in Barcelona, Glaxo, Inc, The American Banking Institute, The National Council for Savings Institutions, The Center for Creative Leadership, Citibank and Dow Jones.

She received her PhD from UNC-Chapel Hill and her MBA and BS from NYU's Stern School.